Finca Cortesin was built and designed in the style of a classic Andalusian finca by renowned architects Roger Torras and Ignacio Sierra. Built around two principle courtyards of palatial proportions, the hotel comprises 67 suites with lofty four-metre-high ceilings and ranging from an impressive 538 square feet to 1938 square feet in size. Bathrooms are finished in Travertine Italian marble with oversized bathtubs, walk-in rain showers, twin vanities and a separate WC.
